

CAREER OPPORTUNITY

July 20, 2007

Manager, Investment Performance & Analysis Manager

Alberta Finance, Edmonton - Your leadership, teamwork skills, and expertise in performance measurement will aid you in leading your team to achieve a reputation for excellence in managing the performance for a $75 billion family of investment portfolios and funds. In this role, you will use your considerable financial, quantitative and leadership skills to measure and report investment performance, perform related sophisticated analytics and ensure that the methodologies and processes are state of the art.

As the Manager, Investment Performance & Analysis, you and your team will ensure the integrity of performance and attribution data. In order to determine and maintain performance measurement integrity, you will use your financial and quantitative skills to resolve performance issues, perform and report portfolio calculations, and determine compliance in respect to Alberta Investment Management policies and investment industry standards. Through your leadership, the team will participate on various Alberta Investment Management projects, researching and promoting best practices in relation to investment performance measurement methods and processes.

Qualifications: A University degree in mathematics or related quantitative discipline and extensive investment experience in performance and attribution measurement, including supervisory and management experience is required. Depth of experience with financial markets and instruments, including equity, fixed income, private placements and derivative securities is critical. Completion of the Chartered Financial Analyst program is desirable. Equivalencies will be considered.

NOTE: Final candidates will be asked to undergo a security screening.
